to me, public informa

Dear Joseph Kalmowitz,

Thank you for your e-mail to the City of Austin. Your request is being processed.

Consistent with the Texas Public Information Act, you can expect communication from the City of Austin within 10 business days after the date the information was requested.

The City of Austin will make the effort to ensure that the information you have requested is made available to you in a timely manner. However, depending on the scope of the request and the time required to research and compile the information, should the City of Austin not be readily able to produce the information you have requested, the communication you receive may indicate items such as:

- the date that the information will be available
- the need to prepare a cost estimate
- a letter advising that some of the responsive information may or must be withheld by the City
- the need for clarification from you

Thus, please note that the communication you can expect to receive does not necessarily mean responsive information you have requested will be available within the 10 business days.

For more information about the Public Information Act visit the City of Austin website at <http://www.austintexas.gov/department/open-records>

Thank you.
